TVES CLEVELAND BREWERY. PATAL STABBING AFFRAY!! House of Prostitution Scene of the Tragedy. One Man Killed and Another

Severely Wounded.

One of those frightful occurrences which we are compelled to give publicity to, ocwife, resulting in the death of John G. Fay,a a German named Orthner, a private in the 37th Regiment, O. V. I., whose family resides on Croton street.

The true facts in the case we have hardly een able to hit upon, two stories being given. We give both accounts, the first, and most current, being about as follows: Yesterday afternoon, probably about two book, of which Augusts Fay disclaimed any he claimed that $20 were gone, upon which an altereation ensued between Fay several times with the knife, cutting through the arteries of the left arm, and in flicting slight wounds on the left breast and blade entering just under the right shoulder, making a severe wound. Upon receiving his wound, John Fay ran into the street and thence into the restaurant next door, known as "Mrs. Miller's," bleeding profusely, where he fell to the floor from weakness resulting from the loss of blood. He requested one of the male attendants to go for a physician, which was promptly done, and Dr. Schenek came in the course of fifteen or twenty minutes. Not bringing his instruments, through some mistake, Dr. S. called in Dr. Roeder, and subsequently another physician, whose name we could not learn, was also called. But by this time the life of the unfortunate victim was well nigh spent, the floor of the room in which he lay being covered with his blood, and the efforts of medical skill were unavailing

He was removed to the scene of the occurrence, and at half-past five o'clock died. During the evening the body was taken to the house of his father, on Kinsman street. Auguste Fay lies in a critical attention of the City Council to the condition at his place. His wound was clid attented. Board of City Improvements. carefully dressed, but it is pronounced to be of a very dangerous character.

Cleveland. Another story of the affair is to the effect that Orthner, in company with two other soldiers, was in Pischer's saloon on Water street, saying that he should kill some one before the day was over. That he shortly after went into Fay's, and without any provocation commenced an attack on the brothers

> Since the above was written and in type, we learn the following facts from the authorities at the Police Station : The murderer of Pay is Jacob Udech, a German, and a member of the 37th regiment. His accomplices are Gregor Beinighofer, John Rodthar and a fellow called "Crasy Charley," all members of the same regiment. The whole gang have been arrested and ledged in prison. dech was arrested at the house of his father in-law, S. Schneberger, en University Heights, about 9 o'clock last evening. He was found seated at the supper table with his wife, his coat and boots off, and yielded very quietly. Betsighofer was arrested earlier in the evening. Rodthar and "Crazy Charley" were taken about 10 o'clock at the saloon of M. Kraus, corner of Polton and High streets West Side. The facts in the case, as given by the authorities, are not materially different from those first given above, and have no better foundation. Udech, the murderer, is said by the Major of the regiment to be a most dangerous and bad man.

> The affair, notwitstanding the disreputable characters engaged in it, cannot but be regarded as most unfortunate, because in flicting upon the peace of our city a mos disagreeable and annoying wound.

We feel called upon to say a word of prais for the Police force of our city, whose efficiency and activity have again been so admirably shown in bringing these law-breakers to justice.

rolls, which I have already returned to your Honors. For the amount paid for the purchase of waitt, tools, etc., see Auditor's report. Although the expenditures show some increase, which is fully accounted for by the advance in the price of labor and by the greater amount of labor rendered noces sary during the past year, yet it is gratify ing to be able to show that the amount res ized to the City from the Cemetery fund shows a large increase over former years By a comparison with the last three year By a comparison with the last three years, prior to the commencement of my term, it will be seen, by reference to the Auditor's Annual Reports, that that the total receipts of the Cometery Fund, from all sources, during the whole of those years, was $10,225 70, white for the pastyour alone, they have been as above shown, $8,882.

As most of the desirable fots in Woodland

Cemetery have been disposed of, it become necessary to lay out, grade and gravel are nes and walks, in several new sections Wish the approval of the Committee on Parks and Public Grounds, the north-half (thirty acres) of "Woodland" has been cleared of underbrush and very much improved.

To comply with urgent requests for lots in the Eric Street Cometery, I caused twenty lots to be laid out, sight by ten feet, by nar-

I found the practice established of taking notes for one-half the purchase price of lots running six months,—in accordance with which, I now hold notes to the amount of which, I now hold notes to the amount of $642.75. It has been customary ever since the annexation of the Ohio City to the City of Cleveland, to allow the Deputy Ser-ton, in charge of the West Side Cametery, to receive the amounts paid for interments and a per centage for the sale of lots therein. This custom I have not changed and it still continues.

It would be desirable that the new sec-tions, laid out in "Woodland," should be ornamented with shrubs and evergreens, as well to promote sales of the new lots as t beautify a place so sacred and dear to all. It would be a great improvement, if provision were made, by extending water-pip or otherwise, for a constant supply of wat at "Woodland," inasmuch as the we about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, somewhat intoxicated, where he brandished a kulfe, for damages of Issac Startovant on account part of summer, making it necessary to bring of Seneca street bridge.
